TROLL SERIES

Angler Qwest Troll and Pro Troll series utilize quality equipment to better your fishing experience. Every weld, seam, and part of Troll and Pro Troll boats are made to handle waves that send most anglers back to port. We don't suggest staying out when your weather app has the red stuff all over the radar—but if you get caught off guard, we have a floating insurance policy.

Why chance it?

IFISH ISERIES

A pontoon boat may not be the first rig that comes to mind for serious anglers but sooner or later, it's time to mature a bit. You sell the two-seater sports car and buy an SUV, which in this case, is a VERY nice one that handles up to 300 horsepower. Angler Qwest Fish and Pro Fish models run and gun surprisingly fast to claim your territory, but provide the freedom to stretch out your legs a bit, too. Whether you're casting or cruising, the Fish Series is equally at home.

Don't let the pontoons fool you, these rigs fish.

FAMILY FISH SERIES

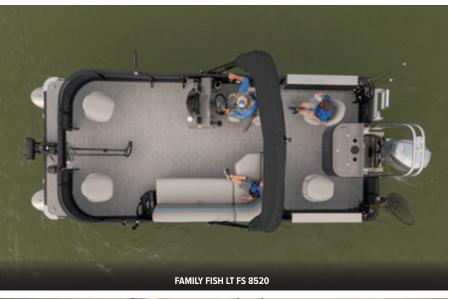

Having a little room to roam on a family fishing trip is not a bad thing. The Family Fish Series by Angler Qwest is great for getting your future bass-master started while still being a great platform for nailing the perfect cannon-ball (and no, he didn't mean to splash his sister). It's maneuverable for a solo trip but spacious enough for half the baseball team on the rare Saturday without a game.

Leave the cell phones at home and start building memories one cast at a time.

PANFISH EDITION

You don't have to take out a second mortgage in order to enjoy some quality time on the water with your family. Let's face it, pan fishing is fun! Or better yet, just go fishing and don't worry about what is tugging on the end of the line.

The Panfish edition offers essential features and benefits for anglers but not the price tag that makes you feel sea sick. Standard features include a rod locker, livewell, and fish finder it's ready to fish right off the showroom floor.

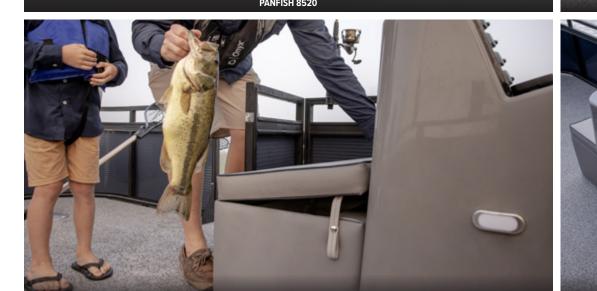

The model is offered in a 16-footer with a generous floor plan, yet compact footprint, so there's still plenty of room in the garage for other vehicles and recreational items.

ICATFISH ISERIES

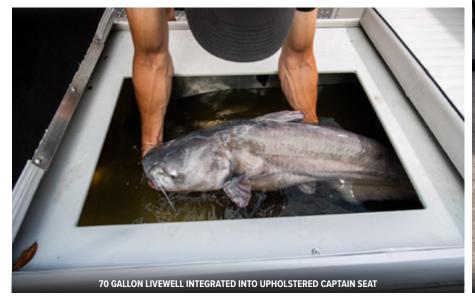

Grandpa claimed cats on the Tennessee River were so big they clogged up the intakes on the dam. If a person actually landed one, it was towed behind the jon boat on a stringer, destined for a cornmeal breading or catfish scrapple. Seventy-gallon livewells, like on the Catfish Series, simply didn't exist. Back then, the extra rod holder was the grandson, while today, over a dozen rods can be custom placed so that a cold beer, or bait, all is within easy reach.

Because giant livewells would have really made grandpa's day.

ISTRIPER IEDITION

Some call it a cult, others just call it Striper anglers being Striper anglers, but one thing's for sure—don't try and sell them a rig that doesn't suit them. That means keeping bait fresh in a super-filtered bait well, but having a trough-like 50-gallon bait well, for when things come together. Two high pressure sprayers mean baitfish casters can remove the funk or that Dad can spray out the evidence of lunch that wasn't low carb (mom says Dad needs to lose a few).

Because when you fish Stripers, there's no faking it, and carbs don't get counted.

ICRAPPIE IEDITION

Crappie may not be the top of the angling food chain, but don't DARE say that to a diehard slab enthusiast. Whether it's a $100,000 tournament, or just the family looking to build up inventory for a fish fry (and have a heck of a time doing it), the Crappie Series delivers. More rod holders, Spider Rig ready, and T-Tops for longer rods means it's never been easier to catch and release or throw 'em in the grease.

Because Angler Qwest makes a habit of overdoing things.

ALL SPORT EDITION

You could say that the All Sport Edition is like your utility infielder in baseball. It's mobile and fast, like a short stop, but is just as at home camped out like a first baseman. You can run and gun looking for schools of bass or relax and vertical jig a reef for walleye. The species or technique doesn't matter because the All Sport does it all, including pulling tubers when the bite is slow.

Being versatile is what Angler Qwest is all about.
